MAGAZINE FOR THE MAKING INDUSTRY

Pt Industrial Management deals with the improvement of productivity in the making industry. Productivity is about effectiveness and efficiency. People and technology are the means that the readers of PTIM have at their disposal to that end. Processes in the making industry are: research, development, production, buying and logistics, automation. Because many industrial companies have an international outlook, usually the English terms are used, such as R&D, engineering, manufacturing and supply chain management and automation.

Digitalizing, automation and robotization are topical subjects with impact on both the produced products and the processes by which these products are made (embedded software, IoT, 3d-printing, security, etc.).

PTIM is focused on project leaders, heads of the departments, senior engineers. Important subjects from the regulatory measures are also: safety (safety) and environment.
